

Personality Types Quiz

Discover if you're an Advocate, Strategist, Go-Getter, or Innovator and what this could look like in a career!

1. When a new person joins your class, your first instinct is to:

- A. Offer for them to sit with your group at lunch.
- B. Give directions around the school.
- C. Dive in to help answer any questions.
- D. Think about how you could make their day better based on what they tell you.

2. When playing a sport, you would prefer

- A. A captain/coach role or to play on the team
- B. To plan the details of a game rather than playing it
- C. To cheer on
- D. To support the needs of everyone on the team, regardless of your role.

3. When your friend group is struggling to reach an agreement on what to do on the weekend, you:

- A. Ensure everyone feels heard and that their ideas are considered.
- B. Take charge of organizing where to meet and when.
- C. Motivate your friends to keep calm under the pressure.
- D. Suggest something different to what has been suggested – if we can't agree, maybe the current ideas aren't working!

4. In your free time, you prefer to:

- A. Volunteer or do activities that help others.
- B. Plan and organize your schedule or future projects.
- C. Pursue hobbies that challenge you.
- D. Experiment with new ideas or learn something new.

5. In a team setting (e.g. school sport), you're most likely the one who:

- A. Brings people together and brings out the best in them.
- B. Plans ahead with tactics to ensure a team win.
- C. Motivates others and pushes toward quick wins.
- D. Suggests bold new ideas no one thought of.

6. What's the closest definition of success to you?

- A. Creating positive results for the people and community around you.
- B. Achieving a long-term goal.
- C. Crushing goals and moving to the next challenge.
- D. Turning ideas into reality in a unique way.

7. How do you handle setbacks?

- A. Rally support and keep focused on why you're doing the thing you're doing
- B. Break down the issue into pieces to work out what's wrong and adjust your plan.
- C. Push harder and find a way through.
- D. Look for a solution.

8. If you had to describe yourself in one word, it would be:

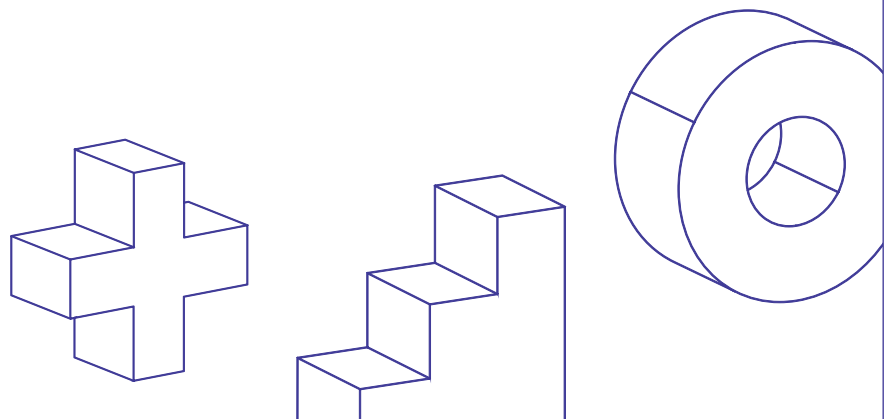

- A. Caring
- B. Analytical
- C. Motivated
- D. Creator

9. People often compliment you on your:

- A. Passion and ability to understand/relate to others
- B. Insight and foresight
- C. Motivation and persistence
- D. Creativity and originality

10. If you were involved in a space mission in some way, your ideal role would be:

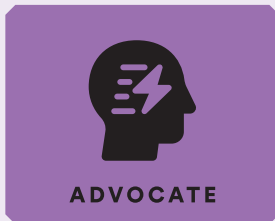

- A. Leading the team of astronauts and looking out for them throughout the journey
- B. Capturing data and identifying trends
- C. Cheering on the crew to keep going – things can get tough sometimes!
- D. Designing and improving the spacecraft

Now, work out your personality type!

How to work it out:

Count how many A's, B's, C's, and D's you picked.

ADVOCATE

Mostly A's – Advocate

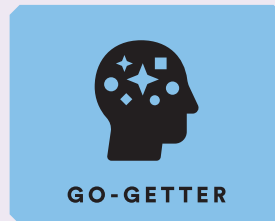

You're driven by purpose and people. You lead with your heart and inspire others to take action.

STRATEGIST

Mostly B's – Strategist

You're a calculated thinker. You thrive on clarity, efficiency, and smart planning.

GO-GETTER

Mostly C's – Go-Getter

You're action-oriented and results-driven. Challenges inspire you, and you love accomplishing them.

INNOVATOR

Mostly D's – Innovator

You're a creator at heart. You love exploring new possibilities and pushing the boundaries of what is possible.

'I scored equally across two personality types!' OR 'I scored one main personality type but notice I have lots of variety in the letters'

If you scored an equal number across two categories (or consistently scored lots of different letters), keep in mind that often people do not fit neatly into separate categories for personality types – for example, you might be an Advocate and a Strategist, or mainly an Innovator with some Go-Getter characteristics, and so on!

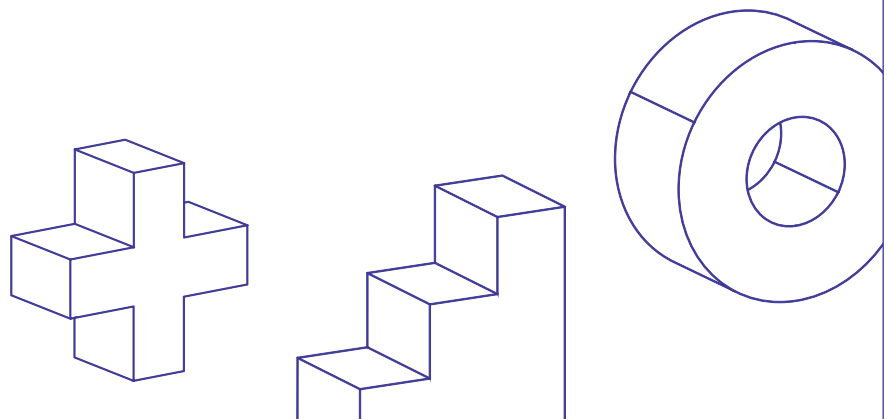

What subjects should I study, based on my results or possible career paths?

Check out some ideas on the next page!

Proudly supported by the

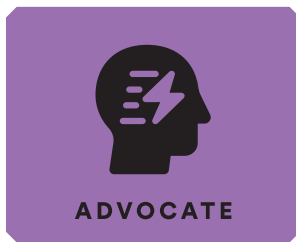

Australian Government
Defence

'What subjects should I study, based on my results or possible career paths?'

If you're an ...

Business subjects, Mathematics, Health, Aboriginal Culture, and English may help you make your impact in organisations, data analysis, and in advocating for people/a cause.

Example careers:
Data Analyst or Drafter.

Subjects such as Sciences, Mathematics, Business, English, and language subjects will help you solve problems and sharpen your communication and business skills.

Example careers:
Electrical technician or Penetration Tester.

Subjects such as Mathematics, Information Technology, and any Business subjects may be useful to study so you can launch projects, work with tech, or drive a business!

Example careers:
Robotics Engineer or Security Analyst.

Subjects such as Design, Information Technology, Business and Mathematics may help you in many of your suited career paths, as these are often technology-based and data-driven.

Example careers:
Software Developer or Test and Activation Engineer.

Whether your desired career path requires a university or TAFE qualification - or no qualification at all - it's important to engage with your subjects in school, as they will provide the skills you need to move to your next stage - whatever that might be!

Want to know more about your personality type or potential suitable careers? Check out the Scitech Future Makers brochure for a more detailed overview of each personality types and different jobs!

Proudly supported by the

Australian Government
Defence

